26-27 Events Report

Fitness Activity

To promote a healthy lifestyle and reduce excessive screen time among hostel students, a Fitness activity was organized as a one-month fitness initiative from 24/06/2026 to 25/07/2026 at the Girls Hostel of Sagi Rama Krishnam Raju Engineering College (Autonomous). The initiative aimed to encourage students to incorporate regular physical activity into their daily routine while improving their physical and mental well-being.

Throughout the month, students actively participated in a variety of fitness activities, including Yoga, Zumba, Walking, Running, Stretching Exercises, Warm-up Sessions, and Recreational Fitness Activities. These sessions were conducted regularly to enhance physical fitness, relieve academic stress, improve flexibility and stamina, and promote a healthy lifestyle.

Approximately 50 hostel students enthusiastically participated in the program. Their consistent involvement created a vibrant fitness culture within the hostel, encouraging peer motivation, discipline, teamwork, and social interaction.

Outcomes

- Established a regular fitness routine among hostel students during the one-month program.
- Reduced screen time by engaging students in meaningful physical activities.
- Improved physical fitness, flexibility, stamina, and overall health.
- Enhanced mental well-being by reducing stress and promoting a positive mindset.
- Increased self-confidence, discipline, teamwork, and social bonding among participants.
- Motivated students to participate in college sports events, marathons, and other fitness-related activities.
- Inspired students to continue practicing healthy lifestyle habits beyond the completion of the program.
- Created greater awareness about the importance of regular exercise for maintaining physical and mental wellness.

The successful completion of the one-month Fitness activity initiative demonstrated that regular fitness activities can positively influence students' health, confidence, and active participation in sports and wellness programs. The initiative laid a strong foundation for sustaining a culture of fitness and healthy living among hostel students.

Fitness Walk and Flower Bouquet Making Activity

The Fitness Walk and Flower Bouquet Making Activity was organized on 26/06/2026 for hostel students with the objective of promoting physical fitness, teamwork, creativity, and an appreciation for nature. A total of 20 students enthusiastically participated in the event.

The activity commenced with a fitness walk, during which students completed two rounds on the sand followed by two rounds around the college campus. The walk encouraged students to improve their physical fitness, endurance, and overall well-being while enjoying the campus environment.

After the fitness session, students took part in a pair-based flower bouquet making activity. Each pair collected naturally available flowers and foliage from different areas of the college campus and creatively arranged them into beautiful bouquets. The activity encouraged participants to make the best use of available natural resources while expressing their creativity and working collaboratively.

The event successfully combined physical exercise with a creative hands-on activity, providing students with an enjoyable learning experience that promoted health, teamwork, and environmental appreciation.

Outcomes:

- Promoted regular physical activity and encouraged a healthy lifestyle among hostel students.
- Improved students' stamina, endurance, and overall fitness through the walking session.
- Enhanced creativity and artistic skills through flower bouquet making.
- Strengthened teamwork, communication, and collaboration through the pair activity.
- Increased awareness and appreciation of the natural beauty and biodiversity within the college campus.
- Encouraged resourcefulness by creating bouquets using naturally available flowers.
- Reduced stress and improved mental well-being through outdoor fitness and creative engagement.
- Motivated students to actively participate in future fitness, wellness, and creative activities.

The activity concluded with students proudly displaying their handmade bouquets and sharing their experiences. The combination of fitness and creativity made the event enjoyable, meaningful, and beneficial, contributing to the holistic development of the participants.

Fitness and Greeting Card Making Activity

The Fitness and Greeting Card Making Activity was organized on 05/07/2026 for hostel students with the objective of promoting physical fitness, creativity, and emotional expression and 7 students actively participated.

The program began with a fitness session, where participants completed 10 rounds on the sand. Walking and jogging on sand provided a challenging yet enjoyable workout, helping students improve their stamina, endurance, balance, and overall physical fitness.

Following the fitness session, students participated in a Greeting Card Making Activity using colored paper and other craft materials. Each participant designed and created handmade greeting cards, expressing their creativity through unique designs, thoughtful messages, and artistic decorations. The activity encouraged students to develop their imagination while creating personalized greeting cards.

The combination of physical exercise and creative craftwork provided students with a refreshing experience that enhanced both their physical and mental well-being.

Outcomes

- Encouraged students to adopt regular physical activity and maintain a healthy lifestyle.
- Improved stamina, endurance, and physical fitness through the sand-walking session.
- Enhanced creativity, imagination, and artistic skills through greeting card making.
- Improved fine motor skills and hand-eye coordination through paper craft activities.
- Provided a healthy outlet for self-expression and creative thinking.
- Reduced stress and promoted relaxation through a combination of fitness and art.
- Boosted students confidence by encouraging them to showcase their handmade greeting cards.
- Motivated students to participate in future fitness and creative wellness activities.

The activity successfully integrated physical fitness with creative expression, enabling students to strengthen their health while exploring their artistic abilities. The participants appreciated the opportunity to engage in a meaningful and enjoyable activity that contributed to their holistic development.
